The power of community-led development: 20 years of indigo foundation

This book marks indigo foundation’s 20th anniversary. ‘The power of community-led development: 20 years of indigo foundation’ brings together stories and reflections from our community partners overseas and indigo team in Australia. It tells the story of how indigo was formed, features interviews with our local partners and community members, and profiles our volunteers in Australia. The book reflects the evolution of indigo foundation as an innovative and impactful organisation and the lessons we and our community partners have learned along the way.
